

Step – Helping learners to improve their pronunciation

Task 1 answers

1. Adrian suggests that our approach to pronunciation should move from the mind to the body.
2. Adrian says that pronunciation should be physical and visible.
3. One way to model pronunciation is to use mime and gestures, giving the sound silently.
4. Another way is to say the sound/word one time.
5. A third way is for teachers to repeat the word several times, although this isn't Adrian's approach.
6. The model used in class ought to be the model of the teacher.
