Step 6.2: What training can you do?

Monica and Marie Therese talk about these types of training:

- Short online courses
- Courses that are partly online with face-to-face peer teaching practice
- Four-week courses that include teaching practice (e.g. CELTA)

They agree that the most important aspect of training is teaching practice, because it helps you learn more about:

- how to plan for a lesson
- what's easy or difficult for learners
- how to adapt to learners' needs in the classroom
- eliciting from learners
