Next steps

Adeseye Lowal Solarin: Thank you for taking part in Communication and Interpersonal Skills at Work. We really hope you enjoyed the course. And if you did, you may want to take a look at the other two courses within the Collaboration, Communication, and Remote Working Program. If you want to try something different, there is a range of courses to choose from. You may wish to follow the digital skills field or the professional skills field.

Alternatively, you can navigate in any order you want to, whichever route you decide. When you complete a course, don't forget to pick up your certificate and add it to your professional portfolio and LinkedIn Achievements. Thanks again for taking part. See you next time.
